

national electrical and communications association

Training Course Description

Online courses

WHS Risk Management

A foundation for implementing risk management in any work situation, enabling workers to understand the processes involved in developing the risk controls set out in SWMS's and also to conduct their own hazard identification and risk assessment on the job.

Online training is easy to manage, schedule and control. Records of results are automatically recorded to the server database and are accessible to members and trainees who can print their own certificate of completion.

Training can be completed at their own pace with no waiting for the next scheduled lesson.

NECA Member's cost $60.00 + GST per person

Safe Work Method Statements

It is good practice to have a SWMS for every job and for live electrical work and high risk construction work it is a legal requirement. All electricians must clearly understand how SWMS's are developed and how and when they must be employed.

Online training is easy to manage, schedule and control. Records of results are automatically recorded to the server database and are accessible to members and trainees who can print their own certificate of completion.

Training can be completed at their own pace with no waiting for the next scheduled lesson.

NECA Member's cost $60.00 + GST per person

Asbestos Safety

The law requires that workers undertaking minor work such as drilling holes or cutting asbestos sheeting must be trained in the correct safety procedures. Electrical workers can encounter asbestos containing materials in a wide variety of industrial and domestic contexts.

Online training is easy to manage, schedule and control. Records of results are automatically recorded to the server database and are accessible to members and trainees who can print their own certificate of completion.

Training can be completed at their own pace with no waiting for the next scheduled lesson.

NECA Member's cost $60.00 + GST per person

Manual Handling

Manual handling is the greatest cause of reported injuries in Australia and an everyday challenge for electrical and communications workers.

Online training is easy to manage, schedule and control. Records of results are automatically recorded to the server database and are accessible to members and trainees who can print their own certificate of completion.

Training can be completed at their own pace with no waiting for the next scheduled lesson.

NECA Member's cost $60.00 + GST per person

Working at Heights Coming soon*

Injuries can be traumatic; this highly regulated activity calls for high levels of competence in observing safe work practices.

Online training is easy to manage, schedule and control. Records of results are automatically recorded to the server database and are accessible to members and trainees who can print their own certificate of completion.

Training can be completed at their own pace with no waiting for the next scheduled lesson.

NECA Member's cost $60.00 + GST per person

Red Book Quiz

Online testing of your employee's knowledge will provide a measure of worker's competence in relation to workplace safety.

Online training is easy to manage, schedule and control. Records of results are automatically recorded to the server database and are accessible to members and trainees who can print their own certificate of completion.

Training can be completed at their own pace with no waiting for the next scheduled lesson.

NECA Member's cost $15.00 + GST per person

If you would like to complete any of the above courses, please complete a training course booking form and return to NECA: Fax: 07 3276 8108 or Email: necaq@neca.asn.au

Payment of Bookings

NECA reserves the right to change, postpone or cancel any scheduled training dates within a reasonable period of time due to unforeseen circumstances.

Payment for courses must be received with a booking form; the first payments received will secure available positions.

Prices quoted at time of printing were correct but are subject to change.

Our Business Partners

GOLD SPONSORS

SILVER SPONSORS

BRONZE SPONSORS

