Enhance your business opportunities with RACCA Membership

RACCA Membership

The Refrigeration and Air Conditioning Contractors Association (RACCA) is the only organisation that represents refrigeration and air conditioning contractors Australia-wide, from employers and business people to technicians.

RACCA's services are tailored to the unique needs of contractors working in the refrigeration and air conditioning industry. We save members time and money by providing timely information and advice and practical tools to make operating your business easier, safer and more cost-effective.

As a not for profit organisation that is dedicated solely to the refrigeration and air conditioning industries, RACCA is your best source for information, representation, professional knowledge and commercial services.

As a national organisation RACCA is a driving force in the refrigeration and air conditioning industries and a major factor in the continued success and security of refrigeration/air conditioning contractors.

RACCA through it's Committee of Management and staff actively works on behalf of contractors in dealing with all levels of government and industry and ensures members are fully informed on important issues and future developments.

Membership is fully tax deductible and provides you with access to a wide range of commercial and non-commercial member services, and a team of people dedicated to supporting you and your business.

Membership of RACCA will ensure you have the necessary tools to save money, stay ahead of changes, take advantage of opportunities and meet your business goals.

Benefits of membership

Industrial Relations and Employee Advice

RACCA provides up-to-date advice and support in industrial relations and employment matters, with a telephone advisory service and staff available for representation in disputes and formal hearings before both State and Federal industrial tribunals.

RACCA also assist members in developing and registering workplace agreements appropriate to the needs of their businesses. A range of proforma documents, together with advice and assistance are available.

Education and Training

A comprehensive calendar of business and technical training programs is offered including: business management, estimating and contracting, OH&S courses, rescue and resuscitation. Training is provided in conjunction with preferred training providers and at subsidised rates for RACCA members.

Occupational Health and Safety

RACCA recognises the importance of having an effective occupational health and safety system in place. This can be a difficult area to manage due to the wide range of legislative requirements and the severe penalties associated with non-compliance.

RACCA provides a range of resources and specialist advice to assist businesses to manage their OH&S issues including: safe work procedures, risk assessments, work method statements, OH&S manuals, codes of practice, workers compensation, accredited OH&S training, OH&S legislative requirements and compliance advice.

Technical and Licensing Support

Changes to licensing provisions and industry standards can have a major impact on the way you run your business and may also affect business profitability.

With representation on Standards, technical and licensing bodies throughout Australia, RACCA has the knowledge and resources to have a direct input into the establishment and maintenance of Australian Standards and licensing provisions.

Members can obtain comprehensive technical advice and reference material and receive immediate notification of changes to standards and regulations.

Commercial and Contracts

It is important that contractors use effective contracts to minimise disputes and ensure adequate protection. RACCA provides a range of contract templates, documents and advice including: proforma contracts and sub-contractors agreements, discounted stationery (job sheets, do and charge, site diaries, etc) discounted Australian Standards, payment and claims advice, discounted legal or specialist advice, and various manuals.

Industry Information

As a RACCA member, you will receive up-to-date information on current issues and events through a range of publications and sources including: membership manual, regular monthly newsletters, published awards, wages and conditions of employment, reference materials, manuals and the website.
